Welcome to ABRSM’s Annual Review for 2016-2017, a chance to take stock, assess progress and celebrate achievement.

If 2015 was a year of consulting and listening, reflecting and planning, then 2016 was very much a time to start putting plans into action. While we continued to build on the best of our heritage and experience, we also took steps towards energising our organisational culture, refreshing and reshaping our products and services, and developing our technical infrastructure. This entailed initiating a wide range of different but inter-connected projects, while ensuring high standards in our essential, ongoing activities.
During 2016 we implemented a range of internal changes to prepare to deliver our corporate goals and we prepared for the move to our new home in the City of London at 4 London Wall Place. Having this new office base has already made a big difference to the way staff work together, bringing a new sense of dynamism to everything we do.

There was much behind the scenes activity as we prepared for a major digital transformation project. The focus is on harnessing the best of technology so we can realise our ambitions, deliver outstanding experiences, increase musical opportunities and create new, connected musical communities. As a result of progress made in 2016, this project is now on track for implementation from 2017 onwards. It will have an enormous and positive impact on our ability to support music teaching and learning in new and exciting ways.

Innovation is something we have been building into our products and services for a number of years. Our suite of popular and award-winning learning apps continues to grow and in 2016 we released Scales Trainer for violinists and pianists, and a fully updated Piano Practice Partner app to encourage successful hands-separate practice.

We also launched products designed to inspire students at different stages in their musical development. Our performance-only diploma, ARSM, provides a new opportunity for any post-Grade 8 musician to work towards and gain a prestigious letter-bearing qualification. For those embarking on their musical journey we published refreshed piano and brass Prep Test books, and Piano Star, a set of fantastic illustrated books to guide young pianists through the early stages of learning.

Creating opportunities for more people to participate in music is certainly not something we can do alone. So in 2016 we continued to establish and nurture fruitful partnerships. We contributed to the BBC’s Get Playing project to form a virtual amateur orchestra, became Classic FM’s official Partner in Music Education and secured essential funding from Arts Council England for our forthcoming collaborative research project, The Music Commission. At the same time we continued, as always, to work with a range of smaller organisations in the UK and internationally, providing funding for youth choirs and orchestras, talented young musicians, schools, music education charities and much more.

This was my second year as ABRSM’s Chief Executive and it continues to be a privilege to lead this unique and highly successful organisation. It’s clear that this success relies on the passion, talent, expertise and dedication of the many people who work for and with ABRSM, and who we come into contact with on a daily basis in the world of music and music education. Together we can make a musical difference to the lives of many. My thanks to you all.
We ran more than 60 events worldwide for over 3,000 teachers.

Supporting teachers

We ran more than 60 events worldwide for over 3,000 teachers.

The ABRSM community

We ran 4 training seminars and 3 conferences, plus focus groups and informal meetings, for examiners. 66 musicians attended one of three training events for prospective examiners.

We held 2 conferences for representatives, in the USA (Dallas) and UK (Birmingham). 194 representatives, contacts and stewards came along.

Sponsorship

We provided funding for 13 music education organisations and projects around the world.

Chamber Music New Zealand, Euroasia Association of Performing Arts, Malaysia, Izmir quartet, Turkey, JN Arts Festival, Malaysia, Kojereeds Enterprise, Malaysia, London Music Fund, Malaysian Choral Eisteddfod / Young Choral Academy, Music for Youth, Music Mark, National Youth Orchestra of Great Britain, National Youth Choirs of Great Britain, Sing Up

Exams & assessments

Over 614,000 exams taken worldwide.

- Practical
- Theory
- Music Medals
- Diplomas

Books & resources

We released 116 new titles and sold more than 2,208,600 books and CDs. There were over 110,000 downloads of apps during the year.

Inspiring musical achievement

We provided 56 scholarships and bursaries for outstanding students at the four Royal Schools of Music, the Royal Welsh College of Music & Drama and the Hong Kong Academy for Performing Arts.

Staying in touch

We welcomed over 1.5 million users to our website, with over 3.7 million unique page views.

We attracted over 150,000 followers/subscribers across 8 social media platforms, including a weekly engagement rate of 60,000 Facebook followers.

Our team

- 714 examiners
- 496 representatives
- 166 staff

At a glance
February

Working with teachers
More than 500 teachers attended events across India to explore our graded exam marking criteria and supporting tests.

Out and about
We had a great time meeting teachers and retailers at the Music Education Expo in London and the Musikmesse in Frankfurt.

Spreading the word
We rolled out Classical 100 to the whole of the UK giving all primary schools free access to this online resource. Classical 100 was developed in partnership with Classic FM, Decca and the Department for Education to share the wonders of classical music with as many children as possible.
April

Celebrating success
Successful diploma candidates from across Asia celebrated at our Diploma Award Ceremonies in Hong Kong and Singapore.

Our High Achievers’ Concert in Hong Kong is just one of many High Scorers’ Concerts taking place around the world which celebrate the musical achievements of exam candidates. More than 100 performers took part in the Hong Kong concert in front of an audience of 800.

Crossing continents
We worked with the India National Youth Orchestra to support the All-India Educational Workshops and Concert. This event brought together 100 young performers from India with teachers and students from the University of Vienna.

May

Supporting students
We released our latest app - Scales Trainer - designed to support pianists and violinists as they prepare scales and arpeggios at Grades 1 to 5.

Encouraging participation
We partnered with the BBC, Music for All and Making Music to promote the BBC Get Playing Virtual Orchestra for amateur musicians.
July

Refreshing our syllabuses

We published new syllabuses for Piano and Brass, to take effect from 2017 with refreshed repertoire lists for Piano, Trumpet (Cornet, Flugelhorn) and Trombone. Supporting resources for pianists included recordings, new books of pieces, an updated Piano Practice Partner app and a fully revised Prep Test book. We also produced new Prep Test books for Trumpet, Trombone and Horn as well as recordings of Trumpet pieces.

Supporting tomorrow’s musicians

As sponsors of the London Music Fund, we had a wonderful time at the graduation day for 45 of their talented young scholars.

Nurturing international friendships

We were delighted to sponsor and attend the conference of the International Society for Music Education (ISME) in Glasgow, attended by music teachers from across the world.

August

Sharing knowledge and expertise

Hallmarks of Distinction conferences exploring the new Piano syllabus took place in Indonesia, Malaysia and Thailand. In September and October we followed these up with conferences in Hong Kong, India (for the first time) and Singapore. We welcomed more than 1,700 teachers to 15 informative and inspiring events.

Developing new assessments

We launched our performance-only diploma for post-Grade 8 musicians – the ARSM (Associate of the Royal Schools of Music). The first ARSM exams took place in January 2017.
September

Creating inspiring resources

We published new repertoire books for violinists and pianists. Encore for Violin provides three graded volumes of favourites from the ABRSM syllabus archive, while the three Piano Star volumes are packed with progressive, newly-commissioned pieces for pre-Grade 1 pianists.

We also added to our award-winning Spectrum series with a new book for Grade 6-plus pianists. Spectrum 5 contains a wealth of contemporary music by some of today’s finest composers.

October

Meeting teachers in China

We were delighted to be at Music China in Shanghai talking to teachers and retailers and answering questions.

Taking music into schools

The first of a series of eight concerts in Hong Kong primary schools took place, organised in partnership with the Hong Kong Philharmonic. During the series, 1,600 six and seven year olds enjoyed live classical music performed by world-class musicians.
November

Inspiring teachers
Over 500 teachers gathered for our annual Teachers’ Conference in London to explore the art and craft of performance with our panel of expert presenters.

Building new partnerships
We set up two new partnerships, with the UK’s National Youth Jazz Orchestra to bring the world of jazz to young people in culturally deprived areas, and with Classic FM, becoming their official Partner in Music Education

December

Moving house
We moved to our new home in the City of London at 4 London Wall Place.

January

Sharing ideas and opinions
Our new blog went live at www.abrsm.org/blog, providing a new place to share musical ideas, experiences and expertise.
